GRAF ZEPPELIN ENCOUNTERS BAD WEATHER

Giant Dirigible Swerved From Course as She Begins Tri-continental Voyage From Friedrichshafen Sunday; Changing Passenger List as Graf Continues Voyage Across Equator.

Madrid, May 19.—Unfavorable weather swerved the Graf Zeppelin off its mapped course early today, adding several hours to the tri-continental voyage which began at forty-two minutes before noon Sunday in Friedrichshafen.

The dirigible, emerging over the open sea from the Straits of Gibraltar at 12 noon to-day (6 a.m. E.S.T.), was heading eastward. Madrid had no direct news of the later movements of the Graf.

Wireless messages had placed the Zeppelin over Mahon, Balearic Islands, four hours earlier, and again her position was reported as south of Cartagena. The Associated Press Correspondent said the Zeppelin had not passed that city at 10 a.m. (4 a.m. E.S.T.), it being evident that unfavorable weather already had effected changes in the schedule.

The Graf took off from Friedrichshafen Sunday at 6:15 p.m. (11:15 a.m. E.S.T.). Her arrival here indicated a flight of about twenty-four hours for the approximately 1,500 miles.

The dirigible increased her mileage by lingering over the northernmost African coast for a considerable time. In doing so she passed out of the view of observers for a total of about four hours.

The departure from Seville to-morrow will be attended by changes in her passenger list. She will disembark five passengers and take on three. Those known to be booked for the transatlantic voyage will be Mrs. Mary Pierce, the Prince of Asturias, King Alfonso's cousin, and Lieut. Emilio Herrera, Spanish aviation head.

TO CONNECT WITH MAIL.
Berlin, May 19.—A Lufthansa freight plane of the Junker type W-33, with over 20,000 pieces of mail for South America, left Tempelhof Airfield today to intercept the Graf Zeppelin before the latter's departure to-morrow from Seville for Pernambuco. The plane is due at Seville to-night.

The hop was made to demonstrate how co-operation between airplane and dirigible type ships facilitates cargo deliveries.

Seville, Spain, May 19.—A postage stamp shortage to-day existed in Seville, with the authorities endeavoring by the use of trains, telegraph and air seroplane to secure sufficient stamps to carry the mail for the Graf Zeppelin.

Speculation on Election Date
August 4, Civic Holiday, Would Find Voters Scattered

Toronto, May 19.—Discussing the possibility of the Dominion general election being called for Monday, August 4, a special dispatch from Ottawa to The Globe and Mail today points out that the first Monday in August is the date set for civic holiday in cities throughout the Dominion. Civic holiday as a rule sees the greatest exodus of the summer for city folk on week-end trips. General election on that holiday would find many electors away from home.

The Mail and Empire dispatch draws attention to the fact that under the new election law, election day must be on Monday. To make the date Monday, July 29, Parliament must dissolve by May 29, and according to the dispatch many members believe Parliament cannot finish its work by that date. Monday, August 11, is too close to the start of harvesting for election day, in some opinions.

A great deal depends on the progress of the work before Parliament this week.

ASK EXECUTION BE POSTPONED
Report Will Show Insanity of Ex-Ski Jump Champion, Says Lawyer

Berlin, N.H., May 19.—Judge M. J. Ryan of Berlin, Defence counsel for Ingvald "Bing" Anderson, former eastern ski jump champion, who has been sentenced to hang in Sydney, N.S., Tuesday for the murder of Blois Rebergh, yesterday wired the Canadian Minister of Justice at Ottawa asking that a reprieve of one week be granted his client, that the defence might present an insanity report.

The last minute effort to save Anderson from hanging was made, Judge Ryan said, on the strength of a report by D. Clare, mental doctor appointed by the Crown to examine Anderson.

Dr. Clare's report, Judge Ryan asserted, was to the effect that Anderson was "close to the borderline of insanity." The report was wired with the request to the Minister of Justice.

While defence counsel here was making preparations for the final plea and D. A. Cameron, K.C., of Sydney, N.S., prepared to send similar telegrams to the Minister of Justice, physicians announced that Anderson's mother, Mrs. Ina Anderson, was physically unable to make the trip to Sydney to be with her son.

POLICE USE STAVES TO HALT RAIDS

Extreme Measures Employed Against Indian Nationalists Over Three Hundred Volunteers at Dharana on Hunger Strike

Bombay, India, May 19.—Nerves worn and fatigued with a prolonged game of tag with Indian nationalists, police guarding the government salt depot at Wadala to-day resorted to more extreme measures to curb the increasing raids on the salt pans.

The policemen used their lathis, or staves, to good effect in rounding up raiders as they would seek entrance into the salt depot, and seven of the nationalist volunteers were injured.

JEER AT POLICE.
Spectators, constantly increasing in number, who all Sunday sat on their haunches and laughed and jeered the constabulary at their efforts to check the raiders, were driven back across the railway lines and away from the salt area by the policemen.

They turned from this task to find a party of 100 nationalist volunteers making a raid on the salt pans. Acting quickly, they arrested seven, but another thirty got away with hands full of salt.

A partial halt, or stoppage of work, was declared here in consequence of rumors that British troops had roughly handled salt raiders interned in the Worli prison compound. Official denial was made that troops had been employed at Worli.

PRISONERS COMPLAIN.
Dharana, India, May 19.—A hunger strike has been declared by 325 volunteers arrested Friday in a salt raid.

The prisoners complained they had not been supplied with water for baths and that their food was inadequate.

At about the same time a European passing in an automobile was struck in the mouth with a stone.

Sholapur, Bombay, May 19.—This city gradually is resuming its normal aspect after more than ten days of martial law growing out of the disorders of Wednesday a week ago. The mills resumed their regular hours to-day, except that the closing hour will be somewhat earlier in view of the curfew law which is still in effect.

Banks and branch post offices are opening to-day. The civil court opened Saturday but witnesses were in most cases too nervous to attend. The military court was dissolved last night after five more persons were sentenced.

CLASH IN SIMLA.
Simla, India, May 19.—Police action in dispersing a meeting to-day of the Indian Congress committee here, three miles north of here, resulted in a number of injuries to both police and natives.

Leaders were arrested and their followers laid out several policemen with their brickbats. When the district magistrate saw that the arrested persons could not be removed without heavy police casualties he gave orders to fire with the result that the party was able to leave.

BOMB THROWN AT POLICE.
Madras, India, May 19.—Police inquiry into yesterday's bomb disorders to-day revealed that six "crude bombs" were thrown at the police, only one of which exploded.

One European police sergeant and one Indian constable were injured. Several persons also were injured by stones hurled by rioters.

DENY ATROCITIES.
Bombay, India, May 19.—The Bombay Government issued a statement to-day declaring that nearly all the rumors of atrocities committed by the mob in the recent disorders at Sholapur were without foundation.

"It is untrue," says the statement, "that the mob tied up and burned alive, and that one had his eyes gouged out, and that two were thrown into a well. It is hoped that the eight missing men will yet be found."

NARROWS BRIDGE SURVEY PLANNED
Ottawa Conference Believes Alterations Will Overcome Navigation Menace

North Vancouver, May 19.—F. H. Bridgman, chairman of the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company, is well satisfied with the mission of the bridge delegation at Ottawa, according to a wire received from him by Percy Ward, superintendent of the Second Narrows bridge.

The survey will be made by C. D. Howe of Port Arthur, with the assistance of one or two bridge experts, it is understood.

Pharmacists Describe Conditions of Service To Minimum Wage Board

Average Week Stated To Be From Fifty-seven to Fifty-eight Hours, With Four Years' Apprenticeship Before Graduation; Three Sessions Being Held Here To-day Before Board Opens Tour of Province.

Evidence that they worked on an average of fifty-eight hours a week for salaries they did not consider commensurate with the duties involved was given this morning by witnesses at the opening of an inquiry by the Male Minimum Wage Board into the conditions of employment of licentiate pharmacists, certified clerks and certified apprentices.

The inquiry opened at the Parliament Buildings, where it is continuing this afternoon and this evening. This is the first of a series of sittings to be held in ten centres of the Province. The board will act at Nanaimo to-morrow.

Preliminary objections to the opening of the inquiry were taken before the board to-day by Lindley Crease, K.C., counsel for John Cochrane and Mr. Cochrane in person. Mr. Crease argued that, as the Male Minimum Wage Board could only deal with wages paid to adults, no complete investigation could be made into the callings to be examined, as these included minors outside the control of the board and the act.

Further, said Mr. Crease, the drugists had memorialized the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for a resolution of the Male Minimum Wage Act, which would clarify the obvious intention of the Legislature that the act should not apply to professions. Mr. Cochrane supported this view, and told of the petition presented to the government to have the act amended.

A counter petition had been presented by the licentiates of pharmacy, asking that no change be made in the act in this respect, said Mr. W. Davy, counsel for the drugist-employees who had applied initially for the hearing.

RESERVES DECISION.
J. D. McIlwain, chairman of the board, reserved decision on the objections in respect to the board's attitude on minors, but concurred that the board had no intention of settling wages for minors, not of exceeding the purposes of the act in any respect. As to the objection to the inquiry proceeding at all, he said, that could not be entertained, as the board was acting under express orders on a writ of mandamus, after the test of the issue before the Appeal Court.

YOUNG LADY CHARGED ON BIG THEFT

Alleged Robbery Outside City Bank Results in Count Against Messenger

Police Charge $770 in Cash and $837.45 in Cheques Taken; Pleas Is Not Guilty

Rita Baughman, young and pretty stenographer at St. Joseph's Hospital, was arraigned before Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court this morning on a charge of stealing $770 in cash and $837.45 in cheques.

The information was laid by Deputy Chief of Police Harry O'Leary as a result of an alleged daring daylight robbery which the young woman is reported to have told police had been perpetrated outside the Bank of Montreal on Douglas Street.

The money and cheques were the property of the Sisters of St. Ann at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Without counsel, Miss Baughman appeared before the court, elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Her voice wavered slightly as she made her plea.

"Do you consent to my trying the charge?" the magistrate asked, after the customary statement.

"I don't mind," she replied.

"What do you say in answer to the charge?"

"Not guilty," she said.

"Not guilty?" queried the magistrate.

"Yes, not guilty."

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison asked for an eight-day demand, which was ordered.

The offence was alleged to have taken place on May 8.

Rising Waters Spread Over Fifty Square Miles in Oil Field Region on Southern Arkansas; Tennessee, Texas and Arkansas in Path of Tornado and Floods.

Little Rock, Ark., May 19.—One section of Arkansas was overrun with flood waters to-day with an estimated 3,000 persons homeless and heavy property damage and another section was recovering from a tornado which killed seventeen persons, all negroes, and injured a hundred more.

Flood waters spread over an area of fifty square miles in the South Arkansas oil fields, inundating many oil field camps and three or four small towns. The Red River bottoms of southwest Arkansas rapidly were being submerged as hundreds of residents evacuated.

HOUSE LOOKS EAGERLY TO DISSOLUTION

Morning and Saturday Sitings May Be Started at Ottawa

All Members Anxious to Get Into Election Campaign

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 19.—Budget resolutions again will be discussed by the House of Commons to-day. Item by item, the individual tariff changes will be taken up in committee stage. It is unlikely the whole of the 500 items will be completed before the end of the week.

Parliament has entered the stretch toward dissolution and the general election. If no better progress is made daily on the resolutions than on Friday, it may be that the House will be dissolved on Saturday.

Only by unanimous consent will it be possible to dispense with the 11 o'clock closing hour and this seems unlikely.

The general feeling among the members is to delay as little as possible the routine business of the House. Each seems anxious to get into the election campaign as quickly as possible.

Deciding factor in the progress made on the resolutions and the possible date of dissolution.

TO DECIDE NEXT MOVE IN RELIEF OFFICE SCANDAL

Vancouver City Council to Determine Course on Rev. George D. Ireland

Vancouver, May 19.—The fate of Rev. George D. Ireland, discharged city relief officer, will be placed in the hands of the city council this afternoon when the select committee on the committee investigating activities in the relief department will hand down its interim report and the council will decide whether criminal action should be taken against Ireland.

This morning the select committee, of which Mayor Malkin is chairman, held a secret conference in its Warshawsky office, discussing the report.

WILL BE DISCUSSED.
Most of the public interest in the report hinges on its recommendations in regard to Ireland. None of the select committee was disposed to discuss this matter before this morning's session. Beyond the already known fact that Ireland will be dismissed the committee's opinion on this matter is being withheld.

In fact it was intimated before the meeting that this vital phase of the situation had not been fully decided before the meeting, although a skeleton of the report was given to committee members last night.

The report which goes to the council to-day is not the committee's final word. With the trial of Clerk Investigator Clifton Maxwell commencing this week it is felt that there may be further revelations.

Maxwell was arrested Thursday night on a charge of stealing $2,300 from the city. He confessed on Wednesday to redeeming meal tickets at the rate of $100 a week.

That a prima facie case exists against Ireland under certain sections of the Criminal Code not being with municipal corruption, was the opinion George F. McCrossan, K.C., corporation counsel, which will be submitted to the council in the form of a report this afternoon.

The select investigating committee, which met secretly in the mayor's office this morning, are recommending to council that the evidence produced at the inquiry last week as to the activities of Ireland and one of the cafe proprietors, be handed over to the city prosecutor.

Mayor W. M. McKay, the city prosecutor, will be asked to examine the evidence, determine whether criminal action can be taken, then report back to council.

Setters and Spaniels Prove Feature Entries In Dog Show Saturday

G. Gough's Groeswen Rock Judged Best Dog in Show; All Breeds of High Standard; Fine St. Bernard Wins Praise From Crowds Which Attend Exhibition; Toy Classes Also Draw High Commendation.

That the English and Irish setters, as well as many of the spaniels, were the best they had seen on the Pacific Coast, was the opinion of George Knoch, of Winnipeg, and George Canfield, of Santa Monica, both breeders of setters, who praised highly the standard of dogs in the show held by the Victoria City Kennel Club at the Armories on Saturday.

All varieties of dogs, from Mexican Chihuahuas to Swiss St. Bernards, were on display. Every breed drew much admiration from the crowds that gathered to see the show.

Highest honors in the show went to G. Gough, mainland breeder, who captured first prize for the best dog or bitch entered. His entry, Groeswen Rock, an English setter, the best in the sporting class and winner in the gun dog show, was conceded the unanimous award of the judges.

FINE ST. BERNARD
Peter, a great St. Bernard, owned by Mrs. J. Nairn, of Oak Bay, created great interest and proved a winner in its division. In the toy class, Mrs. Cassels and Mrs. K. Hamilton, of Seattle, took premier honors, the former winning best of the breed and novice prizes with Moussie of Shantung, while the latter carried off the laurels in the reserve winners' division.

PREMIER MacDONALD SENDS MESSAGE TO SIR JOSEPH WARD

Canadian Press
London, May 19.—Rt. Hon. Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister, has sent the following cable to Sir Jos. Ward, who, on Thursday, announced his resignation as Premier of New Zealand owing to reasons of age and health.

"I learn with deep regret that on medical advice you have felt it necessary to resign. I am sorry to think that this means we shall be deprived of the benefit of your valuable counsel and experience when we meet at the Imperial Conference. I shall always retain the happiest recollection of our association in the past, and hope the relief you are taking from the cares and burdens of office may soon lead to marked improvement of your health."

MAROONED ON SAND BAR IN CAPILANO CREEK

Nanaimo Man in Vancouver Hospital After Trying Experience

North Vancouver, May 19.—C. J. Boal, forty-five, Nanaimo, was rescued yesterday from a sand bar in Capilano Creek by district police after being marooned there since Tuesday. He is in North Vancouver General Hospital recovering from the effects of hunger and exposure.

He told police he came to Vancouver from Nanaimo for a holiday. Tuesday morning, he said, he crossed to the North Shore for a hike. He came to the Capilano Canyon and slipped in the water. He was carried down for a considerable distance and finally managed to drag himself on to the sand bar.

He found himself between cliffs towering over 200 feet in the air. The bar jutted out from the base of the cliffs. He struck his knee against a rock while in the water, thus hampering him when he attempted to scale the cliff. Again and again he tried, he told police, and finally fell back exhausted.

IN ISOLATED SPOT
The bar is in an isolated spot and his plight was not noticed until Sunday morning. Some boys on a hike notified police. They said that a body had been washed ashore from the waters of the creek.

Investigation by Chief W. W. Hemmingsway, Sgt. C. J. Gurr and Constable J. F. French, disclosed the man was alive.

They climbed down the cliff as far as they could get. Their progress was halted many feet above the spot where Mr. Boal was lying.

They commenced to fell trees in an effort to place them in such a position they could climb down them. After six trees had been felled, they succeeded in placing a tree in the right position.

The rescue was effected after six hours' labor by the police. After gaining his side they placed a rope around him and gradually made their way back up the side of the cliff.

He was rushed to North Vancouver General Hospital, where it was found he was suffering from exposure and hunger. It is expected he will be fully recovered from his experience within a few days.

Mr. Boal is a returned veteran. He is the proprietor of a garage in Nanaimo.

Ottawa, Ont., May 19.—A fire captain lost his life and several of his men were injured when the wall of a blazing house in the west end of the capital collapsed after noon, pinning them to the ground. Capt. Robert Ratt, of No. 2 station, died of injuries soon after he had been extricated from the debris. He was standing close by the wall directing the fire-fighters when the burning section gave way.

BOY SLEEPS AS PARTY SEARCHES

Peacefully Slumbering as Two Hundred Scour Hamilton Bush For Him

Hamilton, Ont., May 19.—Peacefully slumbering in a thicket, almost completely hidden from view, four-year-old Eddie Pienak of this city was found in Beverly Swamp yesterday afternoon after county police and a posse of 200 farmers had combed the dense bush since Saturday afternoon for the lost lad.

Exhausted from his tramp, the little fellow collapsed and was in a weakened condition when Sam Gowen saw the tiny form stretched out before him.

Saturday afternoon the parents with a realtor visited a farm. Pienak was a prospective purchaser and the adult members of the party became so interested in the inspection that they forgot the boy, who wandered away.

SEVEN-YEAR SENTENCE ON DRUG CHARGE

Sentences Awarded To-day at New Westminster Assizes

New Westminster, May 19.—Declaring that the possession of drugs or any offence under the Narcotic Act was one of the most serious offences known in any country, Chief Justice Morrison in Assize Court to-day sentenced James Weir to seven years in the penitentiary together with a $200 fine or an additional year for possessing morphine.

The convicted man said he had been a drug addict since 1914, claiming that he had to use drugs for nervous trouble. He declared he was never a peddler or distributor of drugs. He had a long record of convictions under the Narcotic Act.

Charles M. Knowles, Allen Lingard, Charles Irvine, Thomas Irvine and William Bohanic, convicted of theft of $10,000 worth of logging equipment at Langley Prairie, were all given suspended sentences. The judge said that all the parties responsible for the theft were not here. "Some others should have been tried with you," he stated.

Allan R. Munday, convicted of uttering a forged cheque at Chilliwack, was sentenced to one year.

Vellian Salo, convicted of wounding Sari Saari at Maple Ridge, was given one year. The judge declared that this was a very serious offence, particularly as the convicted man had a revolver.

John Cunningham and John M. Delmel, convicted of breaking and entering the home of John Foster at Coquitlam, and possession of stolen goods, were sentenced to two years each.

Charles Peterson was given three years for having issued worthless cheques at Langley Prairie. This is the maximum penalty, Peterson having a long record of similar offences between 1915 and 1929.

James St. Clair and Peter Harrigan, convicted of possessing stolen goods at Ruskin, were sentenced to one year each.

Horace T. McKay of Vancouver, convicted of the theft of chickens from Milner, was remanded until Thursday morning for sentence, the judge stating that he wished further to consider this case.

Ottawa, Ont., May 19.—Request that all civil servants whose employment is of a continuing or intermittent nature and whose annual earnings exceed $100, be brought within the scope of the Civil Service Superannuation Act of 1924 constitutes one of the main subjects dealt with in a memorandum presented to Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance by representatives of Civil Service Federation of Canada.

The federation statement strongly endorsed the Beatty commission's recommendation for an amendment to the 1924 act so as "to entitle the civil servant, at withdrawal from the service for any cause (except dismissal for misconduct), or his estate in the event of his death, to a payment from the pension fund of not less than his accumulated contributions to the fund, without interest."

Mr. Dunning promised careful consideration of the federation's submission.

PLANT EMIGRATION

By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.H.S.

We are given to understand that man was first a hunter, then a herder and lastly an agriculturist, so it stands to reason that animals were domesticated before plants. It is a fact, however, that the origin of most plants, as we know them to-day, is lost in the midst of ages. When man appeared in Europe he was already well advanced. He had cattle and rough implements of husbandry. He was content with the move, so that, with the exception of Australia, there is no country in the world which still contains its original inhabitants. This emigration is still going on but at an even greater rate than ever before and man to-day, as in the past, is taking with him when he goes abroad, his favorite domestic plants.

Corn, rice, sweet potatoes, sugar cane and the banana are examples of plants which have spread far beyond their natural confines. The spread of these useful plants came mostly along with such goods as ginger, tobacco, cotton and castor oil.

Many of the trees in Great Britain which are now associated with the Old Country were introduced in comparatively modern times, as the larch, Lombardy poplar and horse chestnut. The tea plant, which had been grown in China for centuries, was not introduced elsewhere until the middle of the last century. Ceylon, which is to-day one of the largest tea producing countries, was a coffee country until a pest made coffee growing unprofitable and some bright person thought of trying tea with the wonderfully successful results we know to-day.

Many plant commodities, such as rubber, jute, and coconut, which were up to a very few years ago, gathered from the wild plants naturally growing are to-day being systematically cultivated.

UPHEAVAL IN PLANT WORLD
The fact is that a social upheaval has been going on for centuries in the plant world. The native plants have been ousted and the stranger has been introduced in exactly the same way as man has ousted the natives of many countries, as for example the North American Indian.

In a great many cases the introduced plants do well in their new homes but it must be remembered that in most cases they would not be so satisfactory if they were not carefully tended by man. How long would the apple exist in British Columbia if left to itself? Any man who has seen a self by a trip through the desert orchards of the dry belt west of Kamloops.

Many native plants, however, develop some disease that is unknown in the wild stock from which they originated. Some insect or fungus which has been held in check or almost suppressed among the wilds with the natural equilibrium is maintained, shows itself as soon as cultivation is undertaken. A new plant is introduced into a country and almost at once these pests which have been inactive seem to come to life and increase by the million to the great discomfort of the cultivator. It is just this that the balance of nature has been disturbed and when the balance of nature is disturbed there is trouble for someone.

THE WEED MENACE
There are many instances of real trouble resulting from the introduction of plants from one country to another. In New Zealand the English blackberry is a terrible weed as is also the common foxglove. The so-called Canada thistle came over here with Russian seed wheat in the early days of Canadian settlement. The tumble weed of the prairie was introduced from Europe and we in British Columbia have at times imported hundreds of weed plants in our chicken grain from the prairie provinces.

Weed control is becoming a very burning question both in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, so much so that the governments of all four provinces are engaged in a very active campaign to devise ways and means of preventing the spread of the many weeds which to-day are making agriculture more difficult.

A great deal will appear in the press during the next year or two on the subject of weed control, and it will be well for the townsman as well as the agriculturist to read, mark, learn and inwardly digest these articles, because the prosperity of agriculture in Western Canada, in fact, its very existence depends upon the actions taken in this respect.

PENSIONS BILL COMES BEFORE HOUSE TO-DAY

Hon. J. H. King Will Move Preliminary Resolution at Ottawa

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 19.—The resolutions necessary for the introduction of the bill respecting war pensions legislation will be moved in the House of Commons to-day by Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Pensions. Whether the bill, based upon the resolutions, will be advanced through all stages to-day is uncertain. However, since the report of the special committee on returned soldiers' problems, comprising representatives from all parties in the House, was unanimous, it is not anticipated that any difficulty will be experienced in passing the measure.

Dr. King will move the following resolutions:

1.—Resolved, that it is expedient to bring in a measure to amend the Pensions Act, to carry into effect the recommendations of the special committee on pensions and returned soldiers' problems submitted to the House on May 14; and to provide for the salaries to be paid to the chairman and members of the pension tribunal, the president and members of the Pension Appeal Court, and for pension to be granted to any member of the said bodies, or of the commission on retirement; and for the salaries of the other proposed officials, and traveling and living expenses as prescribed; and for the constitution of a branch of the department to be known as the Veterans' Bureau.

2.—Resolved, that the time for receiving applications for insurance under the Returned Soldiers' Insurance Act be extended for three years from August 31, 1930.

THE SALMON TREATY

PARLIAMENT HAS A HEAVY PROGRAMME of business to complete before dissolution, but nothing should be allowed to interfere with the ratification of the Fraser River Sockeye Salmon Treaty. The treaty has been redrafted by Canada and the United States and is thoroughly satisfactory to the government of British Columbia. Now British Columbia members of Parliament, led by General A. D. McRae, of North Vancouver, are pressing for further amendments. As the treaty in its original form, without any amendments whatever, was fully endorsed by the present provincial government and by its predecessor, the British Columbia members will assume a grave responsibility if they continue to oppose it. Their insistence on material amendments at this stage will leave them open to the charge that their real desire is to kill the treaty altogether. As far as some of them are concerned, there never has been much doubt about that.

The amendments advanced by Conservatives at Ottawa were made public by the provincial government here at the week-end. They relate to the scope of the Canadian-United States Commission—the body to be set up under the treaty—as far as works connected with the industry are concerned. It is proposed that this commission be given no power to construct such works as fish hatcheries and other equipment. Instead, actual construction would be carried out by the government of the country in which the work was required. The other suggestion is that a clause be inserted to provide that all works and equipment thus constructed shall remain the property of the country in which it stands—after the treaty has lapsed.

As most, if not all, of these works will be built in Canada, it is not likely the United States will agree to the first proposal. It seems, instead, to strike at the basis of the whole scheme—the conservation of the Fraser fisheries by a joint commission, independent of domination by either government. The territorial and other rights of Canada are preserved by clauses which the legal advisors of the federal government and the British Columbia government consider entirely adequate. The second proposal, covering the future ownership of equipment installed for the work of the commission, is considered by provincial government experts as unnecessary. They hold that these works, if built in Canada, will become Canadian property as a matter of course when the treaty lapses, just as an improvement erected by a tenant on a piece of land becomes the property of the land-owner.

The people of British Columbia unquestionably want the Salmon Treaty passed this session, and, after all, the restoration of the Fraser fisheries is essentially a British Columbia project, though nation-wide in its importance. The people of British Columbia have expressed their support of the treaty through two governments of opposite political views. Through those governments they have said they consider their interests and the interests of Canada are fully protected in the treaty as drawn up.

POOR MR. GUTHRIE

WHEN HON. R. B. BENNETT WAS AT Guelph a few days ago taking part in the convention which nominated Hon. Hugh Guthrie as the Conservative party standard-bearer, he asked his audience whether it was likely that Canada would trust "novices"—meaning the King government—with what he called their newly-adopted policy. He emphasized his inquiry by saying that "whenever you have any convert doing something he has not been brought up to do, he will always make a mess of it."

Surely this was rather tough on Mr. Guthrie. When that gentleman left the Liberal party in 1917 to take office in the Union government he became an ardent Conservative, and on his re-entry into the Cabinet in 1926 he was destined to lead the Conservatives in the House of Commons, for Mr. Meighen met defeat at the polls and resigned. Mr. Guthrie was chosen to fill the vacancy temporarily by a gathering of the Conservative members, and he continued to act in that capacity until the famous Winnipeg convention selected Mr. Bennett.

True, Mr. Bennett was speaking to the converted at the Guelph gathering, attacking the countervailing duties proposed in Mr. Dunning's budget—in spite of the fact that he had many times demanded the government follow this course—but in the light of Mr. Guthrie's conversion from the Liberal party, during an unpopular period of opposition, to a cabinet position under Sir Robert Borden, Mr. Bennett's reference to the unreliability of political converts must have caused his colleague an uncomfortable moment or so.

WILL THEY BEHAVE?

IF WE REQUIRE ANY NEW PROOF OF how time changes people's outlook, we had it in a dispatch from London the other day which told us that M. Sokolnikoff, the Soviet ambassador to Great Britain, and his wife had been received by Queen Mary, and that they stayed some time with her in her private apartments at Buckingham Palace.

Not very long ago a social call of this character would have been out of the question. Soviet emissaries had been found guilty of breaking their country's agreement with Britain, and they were turned out bag and baggage, politely but firmly told that they would not be permitted to return until they had learned how to behave themselves and keep their promises.

There is a division of opinion in Great Britain, of course, as to the wisdom of having anything to do with the Soviet government as at present constituted. One school contends that Russia is too unclean to be touched even through the impersonal mechanism of trade, that the commercial delegation for which provision is made in the terms of the agreement recently concluded between the two governments once again will shelter conspiracy against the institutions of the British Empire. A more moderate school contends, on the other hand, that the Communist propaganda which has been going on, and probably will continue to go on in some form or another, is merely a waste of Communist money, that in self-defence Russia will gradually change her system of government because she has failed to foist it on other countries.

The visit which the Soviet ambassador and his wife paid Queen Mary, however, brings home to us the softening effect of time and its inevitable changes. Perhaps the government at Moscow at last has realized that if Russia is to resume her place among the nations, it will be necessary for her representatives abroad to recognize that their country will be best served by fair dealings and not by broken pledges. International morality no longer is an abstract thing of which the average individual knows nothing. The League of Nations, the publicity which has been given to post-war conferences, has been an enlightening factor.

THE BOOTLEGGER TYPE

IF PREMIER KING WERE LOOKING

for a new argument in support of the bill which he sponsored to put an end to the export of liquor from Canada to the United States, he could find it in a dispatch from Chicago which reports the uncovering of the activities of a colorful Jekyll and Hyde of the run-running realm. He is one Frank J. Parker, known to the police of Chicago as a petty hoodlum, confidence man, automobile thief, burglar, ex-convict and well-to-do aviator bootlegger; indeed, the possibility of his complicity in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven Moran gangsters was not overlooked by the investigators of that revolting incident.

In the city of Montreal, however, the same Frank J. Parker answered to the description of president of the Dominion Distillers, Limited, and generally was regarded in commercial circles as a keen man of business. Not until last Friday, when a Canadian customs officer—by the aid of photographs and finger prints—identified the two as the same, their owner, by the way, having been jailed the day before on perjury charges and for attempting to bribe excise officers.

From this record of Parker's we get a fairly clear insight into the character of the men who have been making their headquarters in this country for the sole purpose of buying liquor for export to the United States. Parker, of course, is only one of many of his ilk, all of whom were served by hirelings from the underworld—willing tools ready to meet an emergency by gun or any other weapon at hand.

Happily for the good name of Canada, the action of Parliament will end most of the activities of this gentry. Such liquor as may find its way across the border will not be of sufficient volume to make its sale the highly profitable business it has been for some years. In any event, no longer will this country have to plead guilty to the charge that the export of liquor from Canada to the United States, though previous to the passage of the Premier's bill a lawful Canadian business, is contributing to a condition on the border that has been revolting to the Canadian sense of decency.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ONCE HIT: TRICK
The Calgary Herald

Wall Street is staging a bull market at present, but the small speculator will be more wary about wading into deep water this time. He is leaving it to the professional traders.

MR. HOOVER AND POLITICS

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

In his memoirs as a journalist, Solomon Buckley Griffin of the Springfield, Mass., Republican somewhere observes that "the art of politics is getting results." One man has one method; another a different method. The affable McKinley employed gentle suasion. Roosevelt the big stick. Wilson had his technique. So did Cleveland. They got things done. Perhaps Mr. Hoover will yet win that verdict. He has not won it yet. He has lost control of the Senate, and the party that he swept into power two years ago by an unprecedented majority is entering the Congressional campaign this year on the defensive.

CANADA'S BUDGET

The Detroit Free Press

The first budget brought down by the Hon. Charles A. Dunning who succeeded the late James A. Robb as Finance Minister of Canada, appears from a press summary to be amply supplied with proposals for tariff changes clearly retaliatory against the United States. Canadian exports, according to one estimate, will suffer an annual loss of $80,000,000 through the Hawley-Smoot bill. The adoption of Mr. Dunning's tariff proposals is expected to cost American exports to Canada considerably more than that sum. The countervailing duty provision, which certain senators in Washington regard with such abhorrence when exercised by their own country, appears among Mr. Dunning's proposed weapons for straining the United States.

ALL-INCLUSIVE REFORM

The Christian Science Monitor

On every hand to-day may be observed organizations designed to abolish specific wrongs and to establish specific rights. The causes of labor, of education, of charity, the cause of the weak and oppressed, including animals, are being considered to a greater extent than ever before, and in their favor is being expended a vast treasure.

Now these strivings are in the right direction, and should not be discouraged. Untidily, they express the best thought of the times. Each and all are useful, pending the time "till all come in the unity of the faith . . . unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ."

Paul perceived the mighty import of this truth. In his epistle to the Romans he expounds the letter of the Hebrew law, as set forth in the Ten Commandments, eloquently impressing upon them the fact that love spontaneously fulfills the law. He writes: "For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." Let one but love his neighbor and he will be found ministering to that neighbor, never standing coldly aloof because the latter's views and his own may not precisely coincide.

Loose Ends

A little column about nothing whatever—but what can you expect under the circumstances—when the robins are quarrelling, the old cow bawling, and the sparrows battling the worms?

By H. B. W.

IF YOU ever find yourself in the unhappy position of having to write a column for the newspapers, I can recommend to you the worst way of going about it. I have just discovered this way and am in the very throes of it now. The worst way to go about writing a column for the newspapers is to settle yourself comfortably out in the air under the shade of a tree, preferably overlooking some green fields and the Sooko Hills in the distance. Having settled yourself and got your typewriter set up and your paper anchored down against the wind with your watch (so that you may note the passage of time), you are now ready to begin. But you will never begin, or at least I won't. Your position, or at least mine, is hopeless. There is nothing whatever to write a column about and no desire to write it, either.

IT is now 2 o'clock and all is unwell. No subject worthy of note has presented itself. The out-of-doors, instead of providing inspiration, provides distraction instead. At this moment, five minutes after two, there is a rustle of wind through the new oak leaves, which are very green and soft, the tall tulips beside me (I have just counted them carefully, and there are twenty-seven, including one with a double stalk) nod very wisely, a large bumblebee has just alighted in a red one, three flying ants have landed on my paper, where two of them have shed their wings, and up in the great oak tree above me a sudden commotion has taken place. I am sure that the readers of this column to see what it is all about, and discover that a fat robin is perched up there screaming at what I take to be his mate on the maple yonder. He would scarcely dare to address anyone else in such imperious fashion. These two, I suspect, are building a nest in my plum tree and some question about the furnishing of the new home, no doubt, is under discussion. Anyway, the argument lasts four minutes and, manfully resisting the temptation to pull a large addition out of my penny bag, I hurry back to work at ten minutes after two. Still there is nothing whatever to write about.

AT HALF past two the little girl from next door comes along pushing a doll carriage. In this is contained a doll, which has lost most of her face and everything else but a mopetous internal organ which emits a peculiar whirring sound. The girl is turned over on her back. Also in the carriage is a teddy bear which has lost one of its yellow eyes and whose nose has been twisted over to the side of his face. The little girl from next door, who is allowed such liberties over here, takes out the teddy bear and, at my suggestion, hugs it tightly and kisses it with a resounding smack on the distorted nose. The remains of the doll she wraps tenderly in an old rag and deposits it head downwards in the carriage. "Loveless dollies," she says. Then, to assist me and the readers of this column, she totters over and starts to punch the keys of this typewriter which, I suspect, writes me a series of strange syllables, which mean quite as much as what goes before and after them.

HAVING COMPLETED this neighborly service, the little girl from next door pursues a flying ant along the railing and finally grasps it firmly in her fist. With infinite care she pulls off first the right wing, then the left. The unhappy victim proceeds on his way at a quarter to three without any wings, but apparently glad to proceed in any fashion at all. At five minutes to three the little girl from next door discovers down among the tulips the helpless form of a woolly dog which she missed three days ago. By waving into the tulips and breaking four of them, she manages to recover the animal, which, having been well watered with the hose and cultivated with a hoe, seems rather dispirited, and his original whiteness has turned to a dark grey. He, too, goes into the doll carriage along with the remains of the doll and the teddy bear with the broken nose. These three and their owner then take off to inspect the young white chicks in Mr. McPherson's yard up the road.

AT TEN minutes after three there is the sound of maternal grief from George Pudbury's place down the valley. It is George Pudbury's small yellow Jersey cow, and she bawls at half-minute intervals with a cry which is heart-rending. A month ago she gave birth to a calf which stood uncertainly on four absurdly large legs and ran behind its mother whenever you approached. Unfortunately for it, this calf had the misfortune to be born a gentleman, and George Pudbury has no use for them in his business. Yesterday it was loaded on a truck and driven away, howling piteously, and the look on the face of its mother made even George Pudbury feel almost sorry. She does not know that her eldest son was sold as veal in the market this morning, and she still bawls for him brokenheartedly. On the farm of George Pudbury motherhood is only a means of assuring a continued supply of milk.

AT HALF past three a small bird (which I should take to be a sparrow) were it not for the scientific knowledge of certain readers, who insist on correcting my ornithological observations) alights on my little lawn. Anybody who has a sparrow, a dead head and a saucy look, which are good enough evidence for me that it

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, MAY 19, 1905

The transfer of the E. & N. line to the C.P.R. will take place within a few weeks. Arrangements were expected to be made for the transfer on June 1. The usual delays have occurred, however, in the negotiations. When communications have to be carried on at the distance which separates Victoria and Montreal, uncertainty exists as to when all these arrangements can be definitely made.

There will be no fireworks display at Beacon Hill this year in connection with the Victoria Day celebration. This feature of the programme, it was decided, should be eliminated from the official programme several days ago, for the reason there has not been sufficient money subscribed to meet the extra expense that would be incurred through having this event.

Steamer Tartar of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Oriental line was the arrival at the Outer Wharf from the Far East this morning. She reported a smooth run across the Pacific.

At midnight the C.P.R. steamer Princess May returned from Skagway, having landed six passengers at the Terminal City—all whom were carried south on the steamer.

This morning the business session of the Anglican convention, which has been in progress during the past two days, opened in the schoolroom of St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, 10.30 o'clock, Rev. Archdeacon Scriven occupying the chair.

of governors of Acadia University, second oldest graduate of that university and for many years an outstanding figure in the Baptist Church in Canada, died yesterday morning in his eighty-ninth year.

COLLECTORS MAKE FIRST FLIGHTS PAY

Letters Transported By Early
Air Mail Services Now
Valuable

Government Co-operation
With Collectors Earns Big Dividends

Regular operation of air mail services has developed, as an offshoot of philately, collection of "first flight covers." Envelopes bearing "cachets," postmarks or signatures which indicate they were part of the first mail cargo between given points are attracting interest and many early and rare covers now command substantial values.

At least four catalogues of "first flight covers" are published in North America, and the speed with which new air mail routes are being established compels frequent revision of these text-books for collectors.

HANDSOME REVENUES

First flights provide large revenues for the postal departments of Canada and the United States, and the Canadian Post Office has taken special steps to promote the interest of collectors. One of the most important of these is provision of "first flight cachets," or rubber stamps, for validation of letters placed on board the planes which inaugurate new air-mail services.

These rubber stamps are artistic and give sharp impressions. They are required to be returned to Ottawa as soon as they have been used to identify first-flight mail.

The first air mail officially transported within the British Empire was in 1911, in England, in celebration of the coronation of King George. Postcards and letters were transported from London to Windsor and return, and examples of those envelopes are now almost priceless, although thousands of letters were sent at that time for a postcard and a shilling for a letter.

POSTMARKS WORTH $50
One of the most valuable of the air-mail first covers recently bid for $50, this being a letter which was sent from Victoria to Nanaimo on August 16, 1919. A point of interest about this first flight is that no validation stamp or other identification is borne by the envelope included in the flight. The identification is achieved by the fact that the Victoria sending postmark is timed 3 o'clock and the Nanaimo receiving time is also shown at 3 o'clock the same day, the mail arriving before the time on the cancelling die changed for the regular evening mail.

FIRST ROCKIES FLIGHT
British Columbia also has a part in the creation of the valuable Canadian first flight covers, this being carried over the Rockies on August 5, 1919, between Vancouver, Vernon, Lethbridge and Calgary. One of the few letters then carried is now considered by collectors to be a bargain if obtainable for $300.

Collectors and enthusiasts send great bundles of envelopes by first flight for the purpose of having material for exchange purposes. It is admitted by post office officers that the first flights of new routes invariably earn handsome profits, even though regular operation frequently shows losses for some time.

PENSIONS ACT CHANGES UNDER CONSIDERATION

At the general meeting of the local branch of the Amputees' Association last week, discussion centered on the proposed amendments to the Pensions Act as reported in the local press and Dominion headquarters were requested by wire to forward full information on this matter.

Delegates to the annual convention to be held in Regina will be appointed at the general meeting on June 5.

July 1 was decided on as the date for the annual picnic and the entertainment committee was instructed to make all necessary arrangements.

WINNING CHOIR SUPPER GUESTS

St. Louis Boys Entertained
By Welfare Association

In honor of the St. Louis College Boys' Choir which was successful in capturing the W. H. Wilkerson Shield for the second time, in the Musical Festival of this year, a delightful supper party was held on Saturday evening in the K. of C. Hall, under the auspices of the St. Louis College Welfare Association. The choir boys under the direction of Rev. Brother J. G. Keogh, together with the troupe of boys who, under the direction of Rev. Brother E. J. Russell, won second and third places in the folk dancing contest also at the Musical Festival, were entertained by the Welfare Association at a picture show in the afternoon, and came to the K. of C. Hall at 8 o'clock, to find the billiard room beautifully decorated to receive them.

The supper tables were decorated with the school colors, red and white, with red tulips and white candles in silver sconces. Mrs. I. Trudel being responsible for this attractive feature. Rev. Father G. E. Evans, rector of St. Andrew's Cathedral, Rev. Brother Lawrence, principal of St. Louis College, and his staff, were also seated at the head table. Mrs. J. L. Thompson, as general convener of the supper, was assisted by the ladies of the executive, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Trudel, Mrs. W. W. Baines, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. J. D. Kiehlner, Mrs. K. T. Hughes and Mrs. McManus. Rev. Father Evans, as chairman, complimented Rev. Brother Keogh and his choir upon their success, and wished them a continuance of interest and ambition in their musical studies. Rev. Brother Russell and his folk dancers coming in for their share of praise and good wishes.

On behalf of the students Rev. Brothers Lawless, Keogh and English, replied in happy vein. Percy Watson, introduced Bob Webb, who delighted the assembly with comic songs and parodies and lead in the community singing accompanied by Mrs. J. A. J. McKenna. A delightful after-supper entertainment was a private moving picture showing of the largest silver farm—in the Dominion—of Peter Blackie, of Birnie, Manitoba, who, with his son, presented this most interesting industry for the pleasure of the boys, and explained the pictures in a fascinating manner. Percy Watson, on behalf of the men's committee of the Welfare Association, thanked the entertainers, who were enthusiastically applauded and cheered by their delighted audience. Further hour was spent in games and community singing. Rev. Brother Russell accompanied the boys, who had accompanied to the larger hall, Alderman James Adam also contributed much to the success of the evening.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

DOES YOUR BABY REFUSE EVERYTHING BUT MILK?

The baby who is nursed too long or bottle-fed beyond the first year is almost certain to refuse all other food except milk. Here are three letters in the same mail bewailing the fact that a baby of eight months won't eat cereals, a baby of nine months (exclusively breast-fed) won't accept vegetables and a boy of fourteen months, still bottle-fed, takes very little other food. And also is sleeping with his mother and father. Very, very bad, that last.

The following advice is intended for all of you, Mrs. H.S.G., Mrs. Wm. B. and Mrs. G.R. Please take it personally.

In the case of the fourteen-month-old boy, he should be put into a bed of his own to-day. No more night feedings, which he probably won't demand when sleeping alone, and no more bottle feedings. Just stop them without further delay. We offer a leaflet on "Cup Feeding," which covers this step in detail, and which you may have for the usual self-addressed, stamped envelope enclosed with your request.

Give the child three meals a day, at seven, twelve and six-thirty or seven at night. Orange juice and cereal for breakfast and a cup of milk if he will drink it, but no dramatics if he refuses.

For the noon meal offer any variety of vegetables, toast or bread, egg or chopped meat, and a milk dessert. Milk from cup if he will take it.

If he will accept a small cup of milk

he may have one between this meal and his supper. At supper time give him a cereal, stewed fruit and cup of milk again.

The breast-fed child should be weaned immediately. Our leaflet on this subject covers this thoroughly. Will you send the necessary self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for it? Give four meals a day only, and offer sieved or mashed ripe bananas in place of the cereal. Try all types of cereal, don't force any one kind, and see that they are well cooked, and offer sieved, served with milk and a little sugar. Give baby an opportunity to feed herself, and if no particular quantity is forced, almost any food offered will be devoured.

For the child who refuses vegetables, use them in soup or sieve them and add them in small quantities to some food the child does like. Try all kinds, because some babies refuse one kind and will willingly eat another. In this feeding proposition there is no such word as "fail" either in the bright lexicon of youth or in the mother's vocabulary. She is smarter than baby and it is her duty to manage ways in which the child will get a varied diet of the proper solid foods without making an issue of it. Tact is superior to force always.

The child who is overfed on milk very often loses his appetite for other foods. Our best authorities now are voicing what has been a common opinion for some time—that too much milk is the cause of lack of appetite, and it may be ended when less milk is given to drink, so that baby has the appetite to want and accept other foods.

Farewell Gifts To Members of McLeod Players

The Royal Victoria Theatre was filled with an enthusiastic audience on Saturday evening for the farewell performance of the Gordon McLeod Players. After the final curtain on "She Got What She Wanted," the whole company gathered on the stage, when numerous baskets and bouquets of exquisite flowers, together with other farewell gifts, were handed over the footlights to the ladies of the company, including Miss Lillian Christine.

Miss Margaret St. Barbe West, Miss Ann Fetter and Miss Maud Blay.

After the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," Mr. McLeod expressed the appreciation of the company to Victoria for its kindly welcome and generous hospitality, voicing their sincere regret at their pending departure, together with the hope that they might at some future date again visit this city.

Subsequently a number of patrons visited the dressing rooms and supplemented the general expressions of sympathy with more personal greetings and good wishes.

Held Social—The Society for Psychic Research held a very enjoyable social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McEachern, 745 Hill Street, Saturday. Five hundred and games for non-players were very much enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the social committee.

Victoria's Maytime Holiday Will Draw Crowds of Visitors

Upwards of 6,000 School Children to Play Important Role in Programme of Attractions Scheduled for Period of May 23-25; Junior Chamber of Commerce Committees Complete Final Details, With Generous Aid From City and District Organizations.

A three-day programme which will be shared in equally by the city and districts of Greater Victoria will open on Friday in commemoration of Empire Day and Victoria Day, with a list of attractions to fill in almost every minute of the time. Special excursions running to Victoria for the period are expected to bring hundreds of people by boat and train, to say nothing of visiting aircraft due to arrive from as far south as Portland, Oregon.

The general plans for the celebration were made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with generous support from merchants, citizens and men's and women's organizations of the city and districts. Only a few minor details remained to be settled to-day, as committees in charge of the affair surveyed the work accomplished in the last six weeks.

To take them in the order in which they will occur, the following is a summary of the three-day programme, subject to amendment yet for the inclusion of an attractive programme to be staged by the Central School Old Boys' Reunion, who have planned a lively participation in the holiday period, commemorative of the school that goes back a period of seventy-five years and which has produced many men and women outstanding in the history of the province.

EMPIRE DAY, MAY 23

On Friday, Empire Day, at 10 in the morning, the massed children of Victoria and District Schools will be regiments at a gathering at the Parliament Grounds, where handsome floral tributes are to be laid on the statue of Queen Victoria, under the direction of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire and the City School Board.

The afternoon of May 23 will be devoted to school sports in the city and districts. The Victoria school teams will assemble at the Willows for a field and track meet, representative of the 6,000 children in high and graded schools. Banish will hold its school sports at Beaver Lake, in a fine holiday setting, and equivalent children will stage their meet at the Memorial Park Equilateral Road.

VICTORIA DAY, MAY 24
The start of an eight-mile road race for seniors, and a five-mile road race for juniors, under the direction of the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, will open the programme on Saturday, May 24. The pistol will crack at 9 o'clock in the morning, and the finish of both races will be witnessed at the Y.M.C.A., with the home stretch being by way of Douglas and View Streets.

As the same hour, pioneer checker champions will battle at the outdoor checker board at Beacon Hill Park, for prizes donated by Alderman J. A. Worthington, of the city parks committee. The checker tournament has drawn many entries, and a large gallery is anticipated.

Promptly at 9:30 a.m. entries in the grand street parade will assemble on Yates and adjacent streets, east of Vancouver Street, for judging. There will be six large sections, and six bands in the parade, which will be bright with colors and gay with music. Members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club will assist in marshalling the parade, and spectators are asked to keep strictly to the sidewalks, to give greater freedom to those taking part in the parade.

GRAND PARADE

The parade will move off its assembly point at 10:30 a.m., and will go to Beacon Hill Park, via Yates, Douglas, Humboldt, Government, Superior and Douglas Streets.

At Beacon Hill children of city and district schools will attend the coronation of the May Queen, in a colorful ceremony arranged under the direction of George H. Hume, municipal inspector, to take place at 11 o'clock.

The presentation of essay prizes won by children in the Veterans' competition will take place at the same hour. Trustee George Jay will present the awards, donated by the Pro Patria and Britannia Branches, Canadian Legion, the Army and Navy Veterans, and the Veterans of France.

Yacht races for the J. A. Virtue perpetual challenge trophy will start at the same hour, and will be witnessed from Dallas Road and the park front generally.

One of the final games for the Connaught football cup will start at the Royal Athletic Park at 11 a.m., when the Banish Thistles will face St. Francis, Vancouver.

At 12 noon a contest for model aeroplanes, under the direction of the Model Aircraft League will open at Lansdowne Road Airfield. The models will be raced for speed, weight-carrying and even "stunting," while full-sized man-carrying aircraft and their crews will likely be on hand to demonstrate the real and practical utility of this new hobby.

RACES AT WILLOWS

A big card of events is listed for the Willows Grounds in the afternoon of May 24, commencing at 2 o'clock, when horse racing, whippet racing and various events will be distributed on a busy programme. The band of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, C.G.A., will play.

There are as many as eleven entries for some of the horse races, which will include half-mile and three-eighths events for novices, thoroughbreds and saddle horses, as well as jumping in centre-field. Sixteen fast whippets are to take part in the Canadian Whippet Derby, under the direction of the Greater Vancouver Whippet Association.

Major K. B. Spurgin and J. H. Scoby will judge the horse races, which will be directed by W. H. Means, secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association. Rocky Brooks, the strong man, assisted by a team of clever clowns, will add incidental numbers to the other attractions.

SPORTS AFLOAT

For those attracted by the flash of speeding oars, an excellent regatta has been prepared by the James Bay Athletic Association, to take place at the Gorge, commencing at 2:15 p.m. There will be six events for the rowers, including fours, doubles and singles in senior and junior sets. D. O'Halloran will act as starter, and C. Mallandaine and K. Hughes, as judges. Outboard motor events will follow the sailing.

Baseball fans will get their thrill at the Royal Athletic Park at 3 o'clock, when the well-known Japanese Asahi of Vancouver will take the field against the Victoria All-Stars in the first of two games scheduled for the day. The second game will be played at the same park at 6:15 p.m. on the same day.

In the evening of Victoria Day fireworks, to be set off from a float in the Inner Harbor, will climax a day of crowded attractions. The first rockets will take flight at 8:30 p.m., light and weather permitting the venue.

GALA EVENT AT GARDEN

A gala time is promised for those who attend the community dance at the Crystal Garden at 9 p.m. on Saturday, when an excellent programme of music will be kept up until midnight. A new Graham-Paige car is to be given away to the holder of the successful ticket in connection with the dance.

Sunday, May 25, will be observed in keeping with the day, and only one fixture has been planned for the day, that of a massed choral singing by the Fairfield Choral Society at Mount Tolmie, to commence at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A programme of over an hour's duration has been arranged for the event, which will take place in the picturesque setting of the hill used for the annual sunrise services.

In addition to the announced attractions, the Central School Old Boys' Reunion will be host at several functions, as well as forming an important part of the display in the grand street parade of May 24. Old Boys are coming to Victoria from distant parts, keen to take part in an unusually attractive assembly of students of the school for over half a century into the past.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

THE WORLD is at present in the midst of a sports parade stupendous in scope. The big events of the outdoor season are crowding in so rapidly that the sports editors are at their wits' end for sufficient space to handle the tremendous amount of copy. The first of the big golf matches have been run off in England with Diana Pittwick winning the British women's championship and the United States amateur team retaining the Walker Cup for the sixth consecutive time. Then comes the British open and amateur in which the world will be watching the play of the best amateurs in Great Britain and the United States. These events will be ended with just time for the contestants to hop back to the United States for the United States open.

The battle for possession of the Davis Cup is now well under way. The United States with a team of youngsters replacing Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter carried off first round honors last week at the expense of the Canadian team.

Important international battles between the east and west in the two major baseball leagues promise keenly fought games in both organizations and sustained interest throughout the greater part of the summer months.

In the background Sir Thomas Lipton waits for another chance to attempt to win the America's Cup premier yachting trophy in the world. Lipton is continuing an effort which has engaged much of his time and many of his dollars. His latest craft, the Shamrock V, has engaged in her first race at Harwich, England, and came through with colors flying.

Britain, too, will send over her best poloists to the United States in an effort to beat Tommy Hitchcock and his crack United States side.

On June 12, a Dempseyesque young man from Germany, by the name of Max Schmeling, who does not drink, smoke or throw away his money, will try to win the world's heavyweight championship, that John L. Sullivan lost to Jim Corbett. A Boston sailor man, named Jack Sharkey, will try to keep the championship on this side of the Atlantic. Other championships, the minor divisions will be at stake as the outdoor fight season gets under way.

Indianapolis on Decoration Day, the big holiday in the United States, will be a mad whirl of flaming machines as the speed kings of the world, risk their lives for the sake of speed and a spectacle.

Athletes from Harvard and Yale, Princeton and Cornell will soon be sailing for England to engage representatives from Oxford and Cambridge in competition.

It will not be long before news of the Wrigley marathon begins coming in.

The Man Mountain from Venice is to be tested to the limits at last, by that he means that Carners is to have a couple of large hands full of George Godfrey next month in Philadelphia, provided Carners's present suspension at the hands of the National Boxing Association is not lifted.

In point of public interest, this stands out as the Battle de Luxe of the Century. The big black belt from Liverpool, whose right name we are told is Feab S. Williams, scales around 225, against Carners's 270. Godfrey has been the leader for years of the little band of brunettes known as Dark Menaces in the boxing world, and he never has had a crack at the white man's championship.

Now he is to have a shot at the man who has achieved more publicity in his noisy trek across the continent than almost any foreign boxer that has come to these shores. It will be a big show.

Primo has had something like sixteen fights in the United States, for which the customers paid $370,100. He hasn't had more than thirty fights in his career. Godfrey, in his last eight years of fighting, has engaged in seventy matches. He hasn't earned half that much money, but what he has picked up in tricks of the ring and the punch he has developed are nobody's business but Carners's.

It is possible for Carners to win from the Black Shadow. He may weather the Godfrey storm. But he'll never be the same if he gets past this one. Back in 1928 Rikio beat Godfrey over the ten-round bout. For months afterward Rikio was a sick man.

"I don't want to win no more fights like that," was what Rikio said of his engagement with the Shadow. "He hit me one in the ribs and I thought I had run head-on into a passenger engine." Carners may beat Godfrey, but my, my! how sick and tired he would get doing it!

McLarnin Offered $20,000 For Bout With Bill Townsend

Vancouver, B.C., May 19.—Bill McLarnin, Los Angeles matchmaker, has renewed his offer of $20,000 to Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C., welterweight, to meet his fellow townsman Billy Townsend in a ten-round bout in Los Angeles. It was stated here yesterday evening. Failing to secure McLarnin, McLarnin will open negotiations with Jackie Fields to meet Townsend.

Keen Competition Features Opening Match in Vancouver Island Tennis League Yesterday; Score Is 8-7; Ross Hocking and Gerald Cunningham, Kingston Street's Lead-off Pair, Play Well to Score Victories Over Gordon and Edwards; Victoria Players Win Two Out of Three Doubles Matches to Gain Victory.

Although hampered by inclement weather the opening match of the Vancouver Island Tennis League produced some fine play yesterday at the Kingston Street Club. The visiting team of six players from the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club won the match after a close day's play by eight points to seven. The teams were almost even in strength and nine of the fifteen matches went to three sets. Kingston Street got an even break in the singles but dropped two of the three doubles.

Prince of Wales Plays With Jones; Winner Unknown

London, May 19.—The Prince of Wales and Bobby Jones played thirty-six holes of golf together yesterday, and though rain fell during a part of the match, it did not interfere with the game of either. The match was played on Sir Philip Sassoon's private course at Troon, Highgate.

Just who won the match, how many strokes Bobby gave the Prince and the totals for thirty-six holes could not be determined.

Their Second Defeat in Two Days; France Wins Inter-country Tennis Tourney

Paris, May 19.—France defeated England, eight matches to seven, in their two-day inter-country tennis tournament concluded yesterday.

France had taken five of the first nine matches Saturday and broke even in six matches yesterday to retain its advantage of one match.

Jean Borotra defeated N. W. (Sunny) Austin, of England, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5, and Jacques Brugnon conquered H. G. N. Lee, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4, but the British evened the singles score when J. C. Gregory defeated Pierre Landry, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, and Nigel Stanger whipped Antoine Gentien, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

The two doubles matches were evenly divided but French fans looked on in amazement as the highly touted French pair of Cochet and Brugnon were defeated by Gregory and Collins, 4-6, 6-2, 7-5.

THEIR SECOND DEFEAT

Cochet and Brugnon, who are to play the doubles for France in the Davis Cup challenge round, thus suffered their second defeat in as many days, Austin and Big Bill Tilden having beaten them Saturday, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In the other doubles match yesterday, Francois Blanchy and Roger Guillaumat defeated A. L. Kingscott and M. J. O. Hichie, 6-1, 6-3.

EARL DERBY THRILLED BY U.S. DERBY

Famous English Nobleman Praises Victory of Gallant Fox in Kentucky Event

Man After Whom Classic Named Hopes Two Flags Will Always Be Together

Earl Sande Finds No Trouble Riding Heavy Favorite to Victory

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—For the first time in the history of the Kentucky Derby the gold trophy of victory was presented to the owner of the winning horse Saturday by the titled Englishman whose family name is borne by the U.S. classic.

The nineteenth Earl of Derby, who said he traveled more than 4,000 miles to see the fifty-sixth consecutive running of the Kentucky Derby, stood in the driving rain at Churchill Downs Saturday and presented the trophy to William E. Woodward, New York, who owns the victorious Gallant Fox.

In his presentation address, Lord Derby said he was particularly pleased to have seen the horse that won the Frankford and his laurels by winning the Derby.

Lord Derby's pleasure to be named to see a good horse not only kept up, but added to his reputation. I have seen that to-day," he said.

Lord Derby's attitude at "the kindness shown me on my visit." Referring to the British and U.S. flags flying in the infield, Lord Derby said he appreciated "from the bottom of my heart seeing these two flags together. I hope they always will be side by side."

In accepting the trophy, Woodward briefly told Lord Derby "it is a great honor to receive this cup from your hands."

PAYS TRIBUTE TO HORSE

Earl Sande, who rode Gallant Fox to victory was introduced by the Earl of Derby as "one who doesn't mind any introduction in America and one whom I hope some day I may introduce to England." Sande paid tribute to Gallant Fox as a "wonderful horse."

After witnessing the first three races from a box in the clubhouse, Lord Derby went to an especially constructed stand within the enclosure near the finish line where he watched the Derby.

At the spontaneous, expectant cry: "The off! Gallant Fox was swept into the mad dash for the lead, easily in a contending position. Sande was in no hurry apparently to make a move, content to let the only fully trained quarter-mile with a race in front, followed by the Blue Grass favorites, Tannery and Buckeye Post. They swept past the grandstand, a wild flash of color, in this order after the first quarter-mile, with Gallant Fox fourth, closely pursued by Crack Brigade and Gallant Knight.

SANDE TAKES LEAD

Down the long back stretch they began to string out and Sande made his first leading. Hocking finally got his service going in the following game and won without much trouble to tie the count at five games all. Taking Edwards's service he led at 6-3 and then took the three on his service and ended the match with a stop volley that fell short, and did not give Edwards a chance to return. The full match score was 2-6, 6-3, 7-5.

SUPPER CRAMP

After lunch Edwards and Cunningham met in their second singles and again the Victoria player went into a lead that netted him the first set. Cunningham did not let up in his hard hitting, and continued to carry the battle to his opponent, winning the second set to even the match at one set all. The first set ended 6-3 and the second 6-4. Cunningham and Edwards battled evenly in the final set for first place, but Cunningham took the seventh game and left forty-three on Edwards's service when the Victoria man was attacked with cramps and took time out. A heavy shower at that time put up the match and following an enforced half hour rest the players again took the courts.

Prospective America's Cup Defender Defeats Resolute and Vanitie

New Rochelle, N.Y., May 19.—The prospective America's Cup defender, Enterprise, again showed her way to the old cup defender Resolute, now owned by Commodore C. Walter Clark, and the Vanitie, owned by Gerard B. Lambert, in a resumption of the races of the new sloops against the older boats on Long Island Sound yesterday.

The sloops finished in a bad heat, and early reports credited Vanitie with finishing second, though she finally sailing past of her rivals across the finish line. The Enterprise led Resolute by approximately eight and one-half minutes, while the Vanitie was another minute and ten seconds farther astern.

The estimates of the time were all unofficial as nothing was learned from the committee in charge of the races. The sloops raced over a course of approximately twenty-two miles.

$1,641,949 Was Bet at Kentucky Track Saturday

Louisville, Ky., May 19.—In a copyrighted story The Louisville Courier-Journal says that $352,384 was bet in the pari-mutuel machines on the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday, and that the total betting on all seven races was $1,641,949.

The totals were computed by an accountant from the figures posted at the track, and indicate that the betting both on the Derby and on all seven races was somewhat lighter than in the previous five years. Totals for previous years, Derby betting and seven races, are:

Four Favorites Are In Quarter-finals Of Davis Cup Play

Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Australia Still in Running for European Zone Honors; Great Britain to Meet Australia in What Promises To Be Interesting Series; Japan Meets Spain, While Italy Meets Austria; Japan Favored to Reach Finals.

New York, May 19.—Play in the European zone of Davis Cup competition has reached the quarter-final round with the four favorites, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and Australia, still in the running.

One of the quartette, however, will fall in the next round, for Great Britain and Australia are to meet. Japan meets Spain, Italy clashes with Austria and Holland faces Czechoslovakia in the other quarter-final round pairings.

The tie between Great Britain and Australia should furnish the closest competition of the third round. The Britons eliminated Germany 3-2, in their first round series and then swept through Poland at 5-0 in the second round. Australia's fine team won its first two tests against Switzerland and Ireland without losing a match, and is certain to give Britain a bitter battle.

Japan and Italy should reach the semi-finals without trouble, and Holland's cool, Hans Timmer and A. Diemer Eek, may prove too much for Czechoslovakia's team which had to win the last two singles matches yesterday to eliminate Denmark, 3-2.

G. Fulmer Wins Medal Round At Macaulay Links

In the men's medal competition played at the Macaulay Point Golf Club yesterday, G. Fulmer was the victor with a gross score of 85, which his handicap of 24 reduced to a net 61. Willard Willis finished second with a net score of 65.

University of British Columbia Wins Up Tour By 23-3 Win Over Manitoba

Over 3,000 Fans Thrilled By Brilliant Playing of Coast Ruggers

Winnipeg, Man., May 19 (Canadian Press).—University of British Columbia ruggers wound up their tour of the east and middle west here Saturday by defeating a select Manitoba fifteen, 23-3. Three thousand five hundred persons, many watching their first British rugby contest, were thrilled by the brilliant, fast-passing play of the coast students who piled up a nine-point lead in the first half and then continued to dominate play for the balance of the match.

A try, two goals, two penalty goals and one field goal mounted the B.C. total to twenty-three points, while the fighting Manitobans scored a pretty goal early in the second half.

Manitoba had no adequate defence for the lightning extension thrusts of the B.C. forwards, though they tackled well. On the other hand Eddie James and Tommy Moberly, Manitoba's backfield axes, seldom were allowed to break loose.

Shortly after the kick off, Phil Barrett taking the ball after a fast passing movement, went over the Manitoba line for a try, the attempted convert failed. Shortly before half-time and play was hotly contested, B.C. being pressed back in their own twenty. Only poor passing by the Manitoba forwards prevented their scoring. A free kick was awarded to B.C. and Robbins, with a magnificent kick, scored the goal.

Portland Wrestler Gains Two Out of Three Falls From Harry Demetral

In one of the roughest bouts seen in Victoria this winter, Ted Thye of Portland won from Harry Demetral of New York, two falls out of three, in the main event of the Tullium Club's wrestling card on Saturday night.

Thye gained the deciding fall in the fifth round with a body slam. He also gained the first fall with the same hold, while a series of rabbit punches and headlocks gave Demetral his lone fall in the fourth round.

The finish of the bout came as a surprise to the small crowd in attendance. After pinning Demetral to the shoulders so the mat in the fourth round, Thye got himself into plenty of trouble in the fifth when he was knocked groggy with rabbit-punches and headlocks. He was still shaky on his pins at the start of the fifth, and it looked like the New Yorker would win easily. However, Thye with Demetral holding him around the waist, grabbed hold of the ropes and let himself fall back on to his opponent. Thye then rolled over and pinned the Italian's shoulders to the mat for the deciding fall.

Throughout the entire bout the two wrestlers adopted rough tactics, slapping and punching at each other like a pair of fighters.

In the semi-windup "Rocky" Brooks of Victoria and Farmer Vance of Portland wrestled five rounds to a draw, neither wrestler being able to gain a fall.

Nic Rindal and Dan Bigton, local wrestlers, failed to gain a fall in the opening round.

Brooklyn Happy As Team Forges To Front In National

Two Victories Over Philadelphia Give Robins Slender Lead

National League Clubs Are Bunched Together So Closely That Brooklyn Only Holds One-game Lead Over Pittsburgh, in Fifth Position; Giants Pressed to Divide Double-header With Boston; Babe Ruth, With Home Run, Leads Yankees to 11-0 Victory Over Boston; Athletics Beat Washington.

Brooklyn's baseball fans, perhaps the most rabid aggregation in any major league city, are brimming over with hope for their first National League pennant in ten years. The Robins are holding first place to-day as a result of a double victory yesterday against Philadelphia.

First place does not mean very much at present, for the leading teams are so closely bunched that Pittsburgh in fifth place is only one full game behind the Robins. While Brooklyn was defeating the Phillies by scores of 3 to 0 and 7 to 5, New York Giants were dividing one double-header with the Boston Braves and the St. Louis Cardinals, and Chicago Cubs were splitting another to line up in order behind the Robins.

The Braves captured the first game from New York, 4 to 1, but the Giants did a little better in the second game and won out, 3 to 2, after an eleven inning struggle. The Giants took another severe blow when Travis Jackson had to drop out because of mumps, the disease which already had laid Wally Roestig low.

Cubs drove out sixteen hits, including Hack Wilson's tenth and eleventh home runs to stop the St. Louis winning streak at nine games, with a 9 to 5 victory. It was the first Athletics victory over the Senators since April 19, Washington having won six straight.

New York Yankees did the heavy hitting for the American League. They pounded three Boston pitchers for thirteen hits and as 11 to 0 victory. Babe Ruth started the affair with a home run in the first inning, his sixth of the season.

The Cubs, led by Hack Wilson, who got two home runs, bombarded Johnson, Bell and Frankhouse for sixteen hits to take the first game. Root held the Cards in check until the eighth, when he was the victim of a rally which netted four runs, but fell short.

In the nightcap Jess Haines won his first game of the season, striking out eight batters and allowing only six hits, while St. Louis' pitcher, Oscar Robertson, pitched a shutout, 8 to 0.

Harold Brynjolfson Beats Morrison In Uplands Title Golf

Harold Brynjolfson and R. L. Challoner will meet next Sunday in the final of the Uplands Golf Club championship. In the semi-finals yesterday Brynjolfson defeated Bob Morrison, defending champion, at the nineteenth hole after a bitter struggle, while Challoner won from A. C. Falk, 4 and 2. The final will be over thirty-six holes and as both players are on their game a good match is looked for.

Morrison's defeat at the hands of Brynjolfson came as a mild surprise, although the latter has always proved a tough opponent for the city champion. Up until yesterday the pair were about even in their engagements, but Brynjolfson's last win gives him an edge.

BRYNJOLFSON TAKES LEAD
Playing superb golf Brynjolfson jumped into the lead at the start of the match and was three up at the seventh hole. At the seventh Morrison laid himself a stroke on his approach putt to lose the hole. Morrison won the tenth and then succeeded in squaring the match at the fourteenth when he sank his short approach from just off the green.

The players halved the remaining holes to the eighteenth. Brynjolfson won the nineteenth to win the match and enter the final.

In the second round of the championship played yesterday morning Brynjolfson defeated H. O. English, 5 and 5, while Morrison won over H. O. MacKenzie, 3 and 4. Challoner defeated W. Pomeroy, 1 up. A. C. Falk eliminated George Pretty, 4 and 3.

"The Benson Murder Case,"
S. S. Van Dine Detective
Story, Is Feature

Story Has Gripping Plot Involving Five in Thrilling Crime

Philo Vance is back in town, trailing the killer in "The Benson Murder Case," showing at the Capitol Theatre. "The Benson Murder Case" is better, more exciting, more suspenseful, than even "The Canary Murder Case" or "The Green Murder Case." William Powell is more convincing than ever as the suave, silk-baited, amateur sleuth, Philo Vance, and Eugene Pallette as Sergeant Heath is a riot of homely humor. Van Dine's story is filled with gripping climaxes that twist and turn as the police fumble with the misleading clues. It is baffling to the end. It defies solution.

Five persons are involved in the investigation following the death of Anthony Benson. Two women and three men are put through the ruthless third degree. Police are led off on wrong trails which seem to involve each one of the suspects in turn. And, when everything seems hopelessly entangled, Philo Vance puts his finger on the guilty person, and proves him guilty.

British Film Depicts Case
Where Genius Fails

It is often a matter for perplexed comment that men of genius sometimes exhibit in one direction or the other an almost inexplicable lapse from the dictates of common sense.

No matter how excellent they may be in their own active spheres, they sometimes commit surprisingly palpable faux pas which individuals of a much less brainy nature would recognize as faults at once.

This idiosyncrasy among clever men plays an important part in "A Woman in Pawn," a British picture of exceptional attraction and merit, at the Columbia Theatre to-day. A wealthy financier, a genius among those of his profession and who can gauge the rise and fall of the stock market to a nicety, is blind to the fact that money cannot buy him the worship of any woman, much less the wife of a young business rival. In some respects the character has a pathetic interest in spite of its capacity for wrongdoing; and the financier's violent end, while brought about by his own philandering, would not have happened could the man have recognized what to less clever people was an obvious fact.

However, his behaviour gives rise to some very dramatic situations in which excitement is never remote.

The West Saanich Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting at the Institute hall, Brentwood, on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. W. O. Wallace presiding.

A letter of thanks was received from Dr. Wace for a donation of $50 to the Institute, and an invitation to the members to attend the laying of the cornerstone of the new shrine unit. Dr. Wace will be invited to address a meeting of the Institute the date to be set later. A list of needlework requirements for the Shrine was read, and the meeting decided to be responsible for making sheets.

A very interesting talk was given on the aims and objects of the Salvation Army by Adjutant John Sharp. Special mention was made of the various phases of work coming within the scope of the army's activities. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the speaker.

Ten dollars was voted towards the Salvation Army funds, with a promise of further aid in the near future. After the business meeting a social hour was spent. A competition in stocking-darning took place, and prizes were awarded. Mrs. L. M. Pickett of Victoria, took first honors. Mrs. O. Pickett was second. The judges were Mrs. J. Osborne and Mrs. A. G. G. The next meeting for the day was Mrs. Watt and Mrs. Pickett. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, June 10, and will be "Guest Day" for neighboring institutes.

The W. A. to St. Stephen's and St. Mary's Churches held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Elmer Taylor, Mount Newton. The afternoon was devoted to preparations for the sale of work and silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. McD. on Wednesday, May 21. Sixteen members were present. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Barton's on Wednesday, May 28. A cabaret and dance will be held at the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton, on Friday, June 13.

"Great Gabbo" Showing All
This Week at Playhouse

Writing popular songs is not a question of being able to thump a piano to extract a few melodies and waiting for the "breaks" from publishing houses. Emphatically not, according to Lynn Cowan, one of four song-writers of the eight now-famous songs sung in conjunction with James Cruze's dramatic spectacle, "The Great Gabbo," now showing daily at the Playhouse Theatre.

"Merely writing poetic verse, and then setting it to music is only half of the battle," says Lynn Cowan. "Whether in song writing a game except that, like successful grain speculators, we deal in 'futures.' The modern song-writer anticipates the public's ever-changing desires in musical entertainment, and tries to meet it at the right moment. The public creates its own demand. It chooses carefully, and, usually, well. For every song hit published, several dozen are complete failures. The song writer, no matter how many his previous successes, is always at the mercy of the public."

Royal Oak

At a meeting of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Michael's Church held on Wednesday evening in the parish hall, plans were made for a banquet to be held on May 29, after which meetings will be discontinued for the summer, being replaced by hikes and picnics. Invitations are being sent to Victoria branches of the A.Y.P.A. to attend a gypsy hike to be held June 7.

The cathedral branch of the A.Y.P.A. has offered to repeat the concert recently given for the benefit of St. Michael's and St. Columba churches to assist in buying paint and hymn-books for St. Columba Church and replacing the colored windows in the chancel of St. Michael's.

An invitation was extended to all wishing to spend a vacation at the Arbutus camp. Those intending to do so are asked to register before May 21. The literary committee then took charge of the meeting for a social hour. Miss K. Greenwood winning the honors in the game contest.

RUDY VALLEE AT DOMINION IN GOOD ROLE

Popular Singer and Entertainer Renders Four Songs in "The Vagabond Lover"

Four lovely songs—picked from among 200 as best suited to the radio—were rendered by Rudy Vallee in his first great feature picture, "The Vagabond Lover," which opened to-day at the Dominion Theatre.

The songs, already sensationals, are "A Little Kiss Each Morning," "I Love You, Believe Me, I Love You," "If You Were the Only Girl," and "I'll Be Reminded of You." The selections were made by Vallee himself after long hours spent trying the scores of numbers offered by America's best lyricists and composers. For his introductory number in the picture, Rudy selected "It's Just a Vagabond Love," his own number, which, with "Deep Night," helped to bring him into world favor.

P. B. RECKITT, OF BLUE FIRM, VISITING HERE

Learned of Death of T. R. Ferens, Head of Reckitt's Ltd. on Arrival From Orient

Predicts Early Recovery From World Trade Depression

When P. B. Reckitt, director of the famous Blue manufacturing concern, Reckitt and Sons, reached Victoria on Saturday aboard the liner Empress of Asia from the Orient, he learned by cable of the sudden death of the head of the company, Rt. Hon. T. R. Ferens, of Hull, England.

The death of Mr. Ferens occurred on May 10 after a short illness. Mr. Reckitt, who is travelling around the world with Mrs. Reckitt and their daughter, Miss Barbara Reckitt, came on to Victoria from the Orient after traveling extensively in Australasia. The party came ashore here and will spend a few days as guests at the Empress Hotel before proceeding across Canada en route to London.

Trade depression exists in Australia but the Australians are a very optimistic people and see better times in the offing, according to Mr. Reckitt. "It is the same the world over, I suppose," he said. "Canada and the United States are undoubtedly feeling the effects of world depression." "But it will soon recover," he observed.

This is the first time Mr. Reckitt has visited Canada and from the observation that he made, he is of the opinion that he had the good fortune to land at the right place.

Mr. Reckitt is a brother of Sir H. J. Reckitt, Bart. of London.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)
Winnipeg, May 19.—With wheat, barley, oats and practically no sales of Canadian wheat over the week-end, the local wheat market opened 1/2 lower this morning, and after holding steady during the first period, lost ground. Trade volume was very light and largely local in character, but small scattered buying by seaboard developed on the break, while mills also took a little wheat.

Offerings were not large and were mostly coming from longa who had taken on small amounts the past few days. There were reports of fairly good sales of No. 2 hard winter but seaboard reported export business generally very slow. The local cash market was slow and quiet.

The weather map this morning showed from light to good rains general in Saskatchewan and western Manitoba, while northern Alberta also received some precipitation. The moisture received in Western Canada this season is nearly double that received last year in the same period. Eastern portions of the winter wheat belt also received moisture.

Altogether, crop conditions over the North American continent appear to be mostly favorable, although there are some pessimistic reports coming from the south. The Canadian visible decreased 4,300,000 bushels, but considerable of the wheat that has passed out of visible the last two weeks is now on the lakes.

Coarse grains—These markets continued very quiet with very little business done with Eastern Canada over the week-end. There were a few bids in the market for an odd car or two of oats, but they were out of line. Flax—Was also quiet. Business extremely quiet and featureless.

WHITNEY LETTER

City Branch, Brown & Co. Limited

New York, May 19.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says to-day:

EXPECT CONTINUED STRENGTH

"While showing little of the spectacular type of advance which characterized the first three and a half months of the year, the market is nevertheless, showing in its dullness a creeping strength which clearly shows that there is no stock pressing for sale. While nothing radical on way or the other is undoubtedly what we are heading for, at least for the time being, believe that on every dip accumulation is taking place by a part of those who are looking for a big market later on, and who are basing their views on what they see ahead for business, even though the evidences thereof are still a long way from becoming news.

"Business has undoubtedly passed through its worst, and as a matter of fact we are now seeing the first real signs of improvement outside of Government statistics, etc., which have admittedly lacked the conviction or market stimulation of actual business reports themselves. If we cannot get actual reports of betterment, we can at least discover reasons for some apparently adverse situation with the railroads being a case in point. The fact that their expenditures from earnings, for equipment, additions and betterment in the first quarter of almost a quarter of a billion represents an increase of almost one hundred million over the corresponding 1929 period, largely accounts for some of the seemingly poor reports you have been looking at so far this year. Believe many industrial reports can be rightly regarded in the same light.

COMMENT

"In the rails, New York Central has made a bottom and turned for higher prices. Atchafalaya is engaged in a new advance and numerous other rails are gradually fitting into this picture. Chicago Great Western preferred should show an even more striking second quarter, but even a maintenance of its first quarter rate will show around 85 for the year.

"The tobacco industry continues to point towards increasing profits, and we think fortitude at the present time is in the same position in that industry as Radio Keltis was in the industry when attention was called to it in December.

"Expect the Thermoid Company to start a move to-day which will show that recent rumors of consolidation in the asbestos field have some foundation. After a rather indifferent start in the first quarter, a rapid increase in production has quickly brought plants again to capacity, and with last year's earnings at $4.77 per share, a dividend and yielding 6 per cent at 80, see no reason why it should not be bought.

"Elsewhere continue to buy the previously recommended utilities. Food Products stocks and oils.

"An inventor has equipped pliers with a safety latch to prevent them opening and slipping off an object that has been grasped by their jaws.

Ovation for Dr. Endicott

Standing Vote of Appreciation Given at Church Conference

Vancouver, May 19.—At the session of the United Church Conference at St. Andrew's Church this morning, Rev. James Endicott, D.D., of Toronto, gave the last of a series of morning devotional addresses, and was given an ovation when the president, Rev. O. M. Sanford, called for a standing vote of appreciation of the services rendered by Dr. Endicott to the church.

Dr. Endicott leaves to-day for Chilliwack, where he will visit friends before leaving for Toronto.

At noon a group of ministers, who were members of the Manitoba and Northwest Conferences of the former Methodist Church in the early nineties, held a luncheon in Dr. Endicott's honor and chatted over the early days of the church's history in the west.

Routine business occupied the attention of the conference at the morning session. The settlement committee, which is charged with the arrangement of ministers and churches without support, met all morning and hopes to report to-morrow.

Pressure Shows Short Life for Wells, Ruby Says

Southwestern Alberta was described as the most important petroleum producing area in Western Canada, by Glen Ruby in the course of an address before the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, according to details received here by Mason and Dissepcher.

The structural conditions in the foothill belt, he said, were more like Appalachian folding than in any other district. A certain section of this area, he stated, is underlain by a basin of tertiary sediments, which extends under a portion of the Rocky Mountains. This curious phenomenon is due to overthrust fault movements which have shifted the paleozoic sediments eastward over later tertiary rocks.

These basins are characteristic geological features of many of the most important oil fields.

He also predicted that should oil be produced in quantity in Alberta, the marketing of surplus gasoline would present a problem that could best be overcome by building a pipeline, 1,200 miles in length, to a point on the Great Lakes, which, on account of cheap water transportation, would eventually become the most important gasoline-distributing centre in America.

As regards Turner Valley, Mr. Ruby sounded a note of warning to the effect that production in certain areas would be limited to a comparatively short life, as could now be fairly accurately estimated by the decrease in pressure as registered at some of the wells. On the other hand, he pointed out that the draining of one area could be offset by the production of others, as the field is divided by a series of transverse faults.

INDUSTRIALS HIT BY 1-2 PT. CRACK; NO BUYING POWER

New York, May 19.—(Associated Press)—Bears grew increasingly bold during late trading to-day and a long list of prominent shares sold off rapidly, with several issues showing losses of 5 to 10 points.

U.S. Steel lost more than 4 points and Westinghouse Electric, Eastman Kodak and A. M. Byers were off 5 or more, while Houston Oil, Allied Chemical and J. I. Case extended their losses to around 10 points.

The closing tone was weak.

SUGAR

New York, May 19.—Raw sugar was quiet and withdrawals moderate. Prices were unchanged at 4.80 for fine granulated, although secondhands were available at around 4.65.

NEW YORK, MAY 19 (B.C. Bond)

At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of thirty industrials stood at 285.87, off 6.54 points for the day; for twenty rails at 148.80, off 1.12 points; and for twenty utilities at 145.07, off 2.55 points.

Volume for the day totalled 2,410,000 shares.

After an aimless and sluggish morning, the market turned weak in the afternoon.

Volume during the weakness did not materially increase, but leading stocks showed rather poor resistance and some of the losses for the day were heavy.

PREDICTS BETTER BUSINESS

Traders paid small attention to business news, which included the prediction by Secretary of Commerce Lammont that the effect of business would probably return to normal in three months.

Utilities were reactionary, indicating to the trading element that there had been a large amount of profit-taking, especially in United Corporation group.

NO BUYING DEMAND

No one single explanation for the weakness in the afternoon was forthcoming, but business as the market remained highly professional, it would appear as if traders, finding practically no buying demand in the morning, were selling the side.

LONG, SLOW REAR

It is now being felt that what was stated last fall and again this spring is the actual fact that the market is a low, slow bear, and instead of being believed in it is preferred to be believed in.

After four years' bear market, the bear market may last longer than people are now able to believe possible.

FOREIGN TRADE OFF

Dealing with the startling drop in foreign trade, Secretary Lammont has considered it a reflection of the various countries, seriously affected by the drop in commodity prices. However, he stated it was probable business would return to normal in three months.

LUCKY STILL GAINS

Despite the lower output of cigarettes for the country this last month, sales of Lucky Strike cigarettes by the American Tobacco Company in April, 1929, were 282,000,000 over April, 1928. March sales of the company were 436,000,000 over March, 1928.

The first four months this year, sales of Lucky Strike increased 1,826,000,000 over the like period of 1928.

WELL THOUGHT OF

American Radiator and Standard Sanitary is meeting with better buying as a result of increased activity in the building industry.

Consolidated Gas is considered one of the most attractive issues in the eastern utility group and one likely to make further substantial progress on the upside when market conditions become more favorable. It is believed to be in a very strategic position and as a result its exchange value is likely to be figured at substantially higher prices than those now prevailing.

SPECULATIVE ITEMS EXPECTED

Wall Street Mirror to-day issued the following to its clients:

Several items of speculative importance will make their appearance during the week and are likely to have an invigorating effect on the market. The market is more dependent on outside news than it has been for some time. It is general opinion that any sort of bad news might unsettle the market temporarily, but with the exception of poor earnings statements and the possibility of further dividend action cropping out, much of which has now been pretty well discounted, there is little ahead of the market at this time.

One of the speculative factors set for this week is the Missouri Texas meeting, to be held Thursday. Wall Street is still of the opinion that a dividend is close at hand for this issue and would not be surprised to see such action taken this week. Any favorable action would have a highly beneficial effect on the rails as a group.

"Tobacco stocks are still well liked in good quarters."

PHARMACISTS DESCRIBE CONDITIONS OF SERVICE TO MINIMUM WAGE BOARD

Adam Bell, the other member of the board present, concurred. The board was under a duty to hold an impartial hearing into the conditions concerning the employment of licentiates of pharmacy, and this would be proceeded with, he said.

Henry Davenport, a licentiate of pharmacy of Victoria, told the board that there were in the neighborhood of thirty-five licentiates in Victoria, and the remainder were employees, and the remainder were employees.

There were in addition two or three certified pharmacists, one of whom had remained in the province for twenty-six years. There were some men between twenty-five and thirty years of age working as clerical assistants, and receiving the wages paid for certified clerks.

Davenport estimated the number of licentiates employed in the whole province as 240.

TELLS WAGES RECEIVED

Mr. Davenport said he entered his apprenticeship after returning from a year's service, and received $25 a month for the first year, $35 for the second, and $40 a month as a certified clerk, rising to $65. After graduation as a licentiate he received $125 a month, until accepting a better post at the hospital.

As an apprentice he had worked from 8 in the morning to 6 and 6 o'clock at night. As a clerk he had been employed from 10 o'clock in the morning to 11 at night, and from 10.30 a.m. to 6 p.m. in alternate long and short days. The average hours of work had been eight a week. Apprentices were paid more in these days, he believed, but the same long hours held true in the main, with fifty-seven hours a week the average for licentiates.

A. H. Fulton, another licentiate of Victoria, said he began his apprenticeship at $15 a month, rising every six months, and experiencing similar hours to the first year. The average weekly wage was fifty-eight hours, with alternate Sundays and holidays. He said, Apprentices at the same place as he had worked in 1928, he believed, had a half hour a week, he said.

Asked if he thought the salary adequate, Mr. Fulton said he did not think so. Carpenters and plasterers on an eight-hour day received eight and ten dollars a day, he said, and Saturday afternoons and Sundays off. The hearing adjourned at this point, and resumed at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Dorothy Dix

When a reporter asked Billie Burke the other day how she managed to keep her husband, Mr. Ziegfeld, who is surrounded by more feminine youth and pulchritude than any other man in the world, against all comers, she replied succinctly: "I take him as he is and let it go at that."

The pronouncement of an oracle. A lady Solomon with pearls of wisdom falling from her lips, for in these few words are compressed all of the law and the prophets about how to be happy through married and how to keep out of the divorce court.

For what are the disillusion of matrimony of which we talk so much? Nothing on earth but finding out that the individuals to whom we are married are just ordinary human beings, even as we are, and not the romantic heroes or the little tin gods that we imagined them to be.

What makes the disgruntled husbands and wives that we see all about us, who cry out that marriage is a failure and throw up their hands and quit? They are the men and women who are not good enough sports to stand by the bargains they made and make the best of them.

What is the bottom of nine-tenths of the domestic scuffling that kills the love between husbands and wives and keeps them at odds with each other and that makes home a place of strife and torment from which husbands and children flee for their lives? It is the nagging and fretting and peevishness and complaining of the wife, the surliness, the grouches and faultfinding of the husband, who are dissatisfied because the other is not something that he or she never was and never could possibly become. Back of every family quarrel is the lack of philosophy that enables a man and woman to take their mates as they are and let it go at that.

They want all the good qualities their husbands and wives possess and then some. A man wants a wife with all the virtues, plus all the beauty and allurements of the vamp. Or he wants all the beauty and allurements of the vamp with the domestic virtues superimposed upon them. A woman wants a husband who is a go-getter, not a money-maker, but she wants him to be in addition a playboy and a soulful poet. Or she wants the soulful poet and the playboy with the money-making bump of Henry Ford.

And because all of these divergent qualities seldom meet in the same person we go about beating upon our breasts and bewailing our mistakes in marriage and swapping old wives' and husbands for new and finding out, when we get them home, that they likewise have their defects and don't come up to our ideals any more than the ones we already had.

In reality very few marriages would be failures if we brought any spirit of compromise to them. There are not many men who are out and out rotters and who deliberately set about making the women they marry miserable. Nor are there many women who are consciously bad wives and who are indifferent to their husbands' happiness. Most men and women are in love when they marry and have every intention of being good husbands and wives. Most often they are good husbands and wives according to their lights, and when they fail it is generally because those to whom they are married expect the impossible of them and demand of them what they have not to give.

Innumerable women, for instance, complain that they might just as well be married to store dummies for all the companionship that their husbands give them. They say that their husbands are so immersed in business that they have never paid them a compliment or given them a kiss that wasn't just a peck on the cheek that was so perfunctory it was an insult instead of a caress since their honeymoon; that their husbands come home at night tired and grouchy and are about as entertaining and conversational as a stuffed shirt.

Or other women complain that their husbands are philanderers. Or that they are jealous. Or that they are tightwads. Or that they can never be pried away from their own firesides to go to any place of amusement of an evening.

Innumerable women scrap their homes and half-orphan their children because their husbands are dumb lovelovers or money-grubbers or petticoat-chasers or Gloomy Gussems around the house or whatnot, when they could save the situation by applying Mrs. Burke's philosophy to it and just accepting their husbands as they are and letting it go at that. What peace a woman would find if she would just realize that a man who works for a woman proves his love far more effectually than he would by quoting poetry to her! Or that a man can be a good provider and a poor entertainer or that a man can have an eye out for other women and still prefer his wife or that even a stingy man leaves a rich widow.

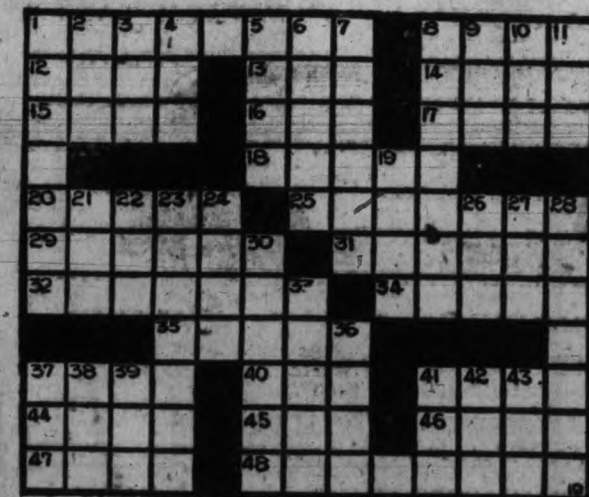

And that, anyway, she can't change her husband and she saves herself a lot of grey hairs and worry and keeps from alienating him by just taking him as he is and letting it go at that.

And the same rule would apply equally well to men. Suppose Maria has got fat, fat and forty and isn't as easy to look at as a flapper, she is amiable and easy to get along with and she is a wizard who can make $1 do the work of five. Suppose Sally no longer raises a thrill in her husband's breast. Neither does she cause any indignation in his tum-tum with her cooking. Suppose Fanny isn't a highbrow and is not a very exciting companion. She is as faithful as a dog and would stand by you if all the world fell away from you.

So why not take your wife as she is and let it go at that? What a lot of heartaches and divorces it would save.

O.S.K. Liners Will Eliminate Outward Call At This Port

Last Scheduled Sailing Outward Will Be Taken By the Africa Maru on June 3

Company Is Facing Stiff Competition Offered By Other Lines

Curtailment of the service by the elimination of the outward call at Victoria, is planned by the Osaka Shosen Kaisha and will take effect subsequent to the departure of the liner Africa Maru on June 3. This change was learned today with the arrival of the Africa Maru on her inward voyage from ports in the Orient.

There will be no change in the inward sailings, the Arabia Maru being scheduled to arrive from Yokohama on June 17.

With the advent of new liners in the service of the transpacific lines, more particularly in respect to the rival Japanese company, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the O.S.K. is faced with stiff competition, which makes the decision to curtail its present service all the more surprising.

In any event the Osaka Shosen Kaisha is not going to accept this competition complacently.

FASTER SHIPS PLANNED
It was intimated today by Capt. A. Kobayashi of the Africa Maru, that the company would have larger and faster ships on the North Pacific route within a few years. The company has a big construction programme under way and is turning out new Japanese companies, to the motor driven vessel.

Under the new O.S.K. schedule, the vessels of the fleet will call at Victoria to disembark passengers and discharge cargo. They will then proceed to Seattle and later make the call at Vancouver.

Outbound ships will sail from Seattle and Vancouver direct to sea.

Averaging fourteen knots for the voyage, the O.S.K. liner Africa Maru reached port at 9 o'clock this morning with ninety-five passengers and 3,500 tons of cargo from Orient ports.

Capt. A. Kobayashi, the ship's commander, reported a fair voyage from Yokohama, the best day's run being on May 15 when 333 miles were sailed with an average speed of 14.31 knots. The Africa Maru crossed the 180th meridian at 8.20 a.m. on May 12 in latitude 40.00 N., the vessel then being 2,047 miles from Yokohama and 2,178 miles from Victoria.

Fog slowed the ship down to ten knots as she approached the entrance to the Straits, said Capt. Kobayashi. On this voyage the Africa Maru carried two cabin and fourteen third class passengers for Victoria, and nine cabin and twenty-third class for Seattle. Those who landed here were Mrs. Stanley Peterson, an English artist who has been painting in China and Japan, and Albert Rowe, an engineer with the Massey-Harris Company, en route to Poom Lake, Saskatchewan.

The through cargo included 1,423 bales of raw silk and sixty-five barrels of live goldfish. The Victoria cargo amounted to 117 tons and included forty-five packages of toys, sixty-two cases of crockery, were, ninety-three cases of earthenware and twenty-five packages of general merchandise.

M. Mitsunaka, passenger traffic manager of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, met the ship on arrival. The Africa Maru cleared from the Rietveld docks at 10 o'clock for Seattle.

Capt. R. Fisher crosses bar. Last Command Was Ss. Canadian Seigneur, Now Loading at This Port

Vancouver, B.C., May 19.—Capt. R. J. Fisher, one of the best known shipmasters on the Pacific Coast, died at his home in Burnaby Saturday morning after a lengthy illness. He was sixty-two years old and leaves a widow and two daughters.

Capt. Fisher was the first master of a Canadian Government Merchant Marine vessel on the Pacific Coast and remained in the service of the company to the time of his death. He had command of the Canadian Aviator and later took charge of the Canadian Highlander, which ship he commanded for eight years. Following this he was transferred to the Canadian Seigneur and continued in charge of this ship until illness forced him to take to his bed. This proved to be his last command.

Officials of the Canadian National Steamship Service today expressed their sorrow at losing such an officer. "Capt. Fisher was one of our most widely known shipmasters," stated B. C. Kealey, Pacific Coast manager, this morning. "He was a typical representative of the old school of sea captains, and of great skill and ability. We are all sincere in extending our sympathies to Mrs. Fisher and family."

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from St. John's Church at Central Park.

At St. Augustine, Fla., there is perhaps the largest alligator farm in the world. It houses about 8,000 alligators of all sizes.

W.R. MACINNES RETIRING AFTER LONG SERVICE

C.P.R. Vice-president in Charge of Traffic to Be Succeeded By George Stephen

Winnipeg, May 19.—W. R. MacInnes, vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian Pacific Railway, since 1918, and after forty-five years' service, will retire on May 31, according to an announcement made by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the company.

Mr. MacInnes will be succeeded by George Stephen, present freight traffic manager. In announcing the change, Mr. Beatty said: "Mr. MacInnes has been in the company's service for forty-five years and has discharged his exacting duties as freight traffic manager and as vice-president in charge of traffic with conspicuous ability and loyalty to the company's interest. By his retirement the company loses one of its ablest and most respected officers."

Mr. MacInnes, during his long service with the Canadian Pacific, held many important positions, including that of general freight manager, and as vice-president in charge of traffic. He entered the service as a clerk in the purchasing department on June 8, 1885, and since that time was consecutively appointed chief clerk to general traffic manager, 1887-1895; general agent, freight department, Chicago, 1895-1899, during which period he also represented the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, and the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway. In 1899 Mr. MacInnes was appointed general freight manager for the lines west of Lake Superior and in 1901 was promoted to the post of assistant freight traffic manager for the company's western lines.

His ability was further recognized on January 1, 1903, when he was appointed freight traffic manager, with headquarters in Montreal, and again in 1918 when he was made vice-president in charge of traffic.

Recognized as an expert on all problems relating to railway traffic, Mr. MacInnes served as president of the Canadian Freight Association, and his retirement at his own request removes one of the most outstanding of Canadian railroad executives from the active list.

Mr. MacInnes was born in Scotland, May 19, 1855. He was educated at the University of Glasgow, Scotland, and at the University of Toronto, Canada. He was married and has three children.

Mr. MacInnes was a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and was awarded the Order of the British Empire in 1918. He was also a member of the Canadian Railway Association, and the Canadian Freight Association.
